

ANNUAL FUNCTION -MARCH 2008

YPS celebrated its 59th Annual Day on 8th March, 2008. Maharani. Preet Kaur, Member of Parliament, and Member Board of Governors of YPS, was the Chief Guest.

She visited the exhibition area, where the students displayed their work on hobbies and academics. The exhibitions included Art and Craft, Science, Computers, EVS, Geography, History, English, Photography, Math's and Commerce. The Junior School also put up a separate section covering various activities. The Home Science section was a big attraction.

Speaking on the occasion, the Principal enlightened the parents on the role of the school and home in shaping the character of a child. It is important for the parents to be role models for their kids. The school definitely teaches values but it is the duty of the parents to support the school in imbibing the values of sound character and discipline. The present- age child faces confusion when he notices a total contrast in what is being taught in school and what is practiced in the society.

The School Head boy and the Head girl read out the Senior School report.

The Chief Guest felicitated the school for its achievements, particularly in sports. She stressed on the importance of sports in shaping the overall personality of the children. She also praised the school for its performance in varied activities as highlighted in the report of the school.

A variety-cum entertainment programme was also performed after the prize distribution. Since 8th of March also happened to be the International Woman's Day, to commemorate the occasion, the students presented a play "Eh Naatak Nahin Hai", highlighting the plight of the Girl child and women in India- an awakening call to save the Girl child.
